

Participate in the Fly Into Dulles Day Event September 6, 2008 beginning at 8:00 am.

GA pilots and their aircraft are invited to display their aircraft, meet the public, and extol the virtues of General Aviation while supporting a great cause - Special Olympics! In this age of possible user fees and increasing security regulations, we need all the good publicity we can get.

Public outreach and charitable organizations are specifically encouraged to attend.

Pilots can register their aircraft by sending an email to the General Aviation Coordinator, Dennis Boykin, at 'boykin\_dennis@yahoo.com'. Send your aircraft type, N number, and your contact information in an email, and we'll email confirmation in return.

Dulles International Airport lies within the Washington ADIZ, so please plan accordingly. ATC will be aware of the arrival schedule. You'll need to arrive between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. local time. You'll have a great time until approximately 4 p.m. Early departures can be coordinated, but if you can stay until 4 it's much appreciated.

Here are just some of the reasons you want to do this:

1. FREE landing and parking fees. You can't beat that price, plus it's FUN!!
2. And, you get a great Plane Pull T-shirt for the PIC.
3. A few lucky pilots will receive:
  - ◆ Free oil changes
  - ◆ Free pitot-static and transponder check
  - ◆ Aviation product discounts

Sign up now, and you'll be glad you did. It's for a great cause, plus you can put IAD in your logbook with no fees.
